Monday Club Notes.

An audience, whose appreciation and enthusiasm were manifest, were more than gratified at the open meeting of the Music Section on Monday last. Each number on the program was rendered in a manner delightful and satisfactory, not only to the club members and guests, but in full measure paying homage to the musician whose centenary they celebrated.

The "Wedding March" of the High School orchestra deserved special mention, as do also the other numbers rendered by the same young musicians whose efforts were so keenly appreciated by the Music Section and their guests.

Dainty refreshments were served. The bouquet of California violets presented to each guest was no less gratefully received because of its coming in the form of a delightful surprise.

On Monday next, after the general business meeting, the afternoon will be devoted to the subject, "Woman, and What She Is Accomplishing." The subject is one possessing many attractions, and will be dealt with by the Literature Section in an instructive and pleasing manner, showing that the place women occupy in the world today is the result of steady normal growth in the right direction. Opportunity has proven woman fit to occupy many positions formerly considered entirely outside of woman's sphere, which sphere is, by the way, no man's privilege to define. The woman of today has just such problems to meet as had the woman of yesterday—not as she is caricatured, as one of Phil May's "lydies," "in the dowdiness of dresses with black lisle gloves worn at the fingers, and shoes run down at their heels," nor as a "club woman," nor yet as a female demanding suffrage, but as a woman who is keenly alive to her responsibilities, who has heard the call of life, and responded with a spontaneity born of reparatory ambition, for anything that emphasizes the mind of helpful progression in the city, the town and the home.

DREDGE MATERIAL ARRIVES

Supplies for Lynx Creek Property to Be Hauled Out Soon

The first carload of material for the dredge under construction on the properties of the Speck Mining Company on Lynx Creek arrived here Friday. The consignment includes resin, oakum, guy ropes and other appliances. Its delivery on the ground will be commenced today. Work on the boat part of the dredge is well under way.

The Speck properties are located five miles east of the city.

J. B. Allende, who is placer mining a short distance from the Speck holdings, came in yesterday with a small consignment of placer gold, which he recently extracted from ground on a branch of Lynx Creek, which is proving very rich. One nugget weighed $9.99. He had several smaller nuggets. The gold recovered is coarse. He saves from $8 to $10 a day in a dry rocker of his own invention.

Allende returned to his camp in the afternoon.

A. N. G. ARE O. K.—THE BOYS PASS EXAMINATION

(From Sunday's Daily)

Considering that Company E. of the Arizona National Guard of this city has been organized only a year and the further fact that a number of its members were recruited in the last few months, the company made an excellent showing at its annual inspection last night before Captain M. O. Bigelow of the Eighth Cavalry, stationed at Fort Huachuca.

After inspection the captain did not hesitate to say that he was well pleased with the personnel of the company, its appearance and familiarity with military requirements.

As an inspecting officer Captain Bigelow made closer examination than has been the custom in guard inspections in past years. This is probably due to the fact that under the present law the national guard can be ordered for immediate service in the field at any time. It is now included with the regular army in the first line of defense, thus coming ahead of the volunteer army. Every member of the guard is now required to serve his full enlistment under the law, even if ordered for service in foreign lands.

After the regular inspection of guns and accoutrements, Captain Bigelow inspected the blanket rolls and questioned the members of the company on many requirements of active service and first aid to the injured. This concluded, he marched the company down stairs from the armory to the street, where many maneuvers of extended order drill were made, special attention being given to advance and attack.

Captain Bigelow will leave this morning for Flagstaff, where he will inspect the Flagstaff company of the guard.

END CAME PEACEFULLY

(From Sunday's Daily)

After an illness of five years George McKean succumbed to paralysis at the home of his son, H. W. McKean, 303 North Alarcon street, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. He was 71 years old and a native of Nashua, New Hampshire. He came here 3 months ago from California in hopes that this bracing climate might prolong his life and possibly improve his failing health. He gradually sank until the end came peacefully yesterday afternoon.

Surviving he leaves his wife and son, H. W. McKean, trainmaster of the S. F. & P. & P., who were at his bedside when death relieved him of his sufferings, and a daughter, Mrs. W. A. Day, residing in Seattle, Washington.

The remains will be prepared for burial by the Maus & Shannon undertaking establishment. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Episcopal church, under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias. Interment will be in the K. of P. cemetery.

At an early age Mr. McKean engaged in business in his native city. Later he moved to California, where he was identified many years with the firm of Hall Brothers in Sacramento. He joined Rathbone Lodge No. 166, Knights of Pythias, of Jackson, Cal., and continued as an enthusiastic and leading member of that order many years, being in good standing when claimed by death.

He also lived in Jacksonville, Florida, where he was held in the highest esteem. He was an enterprising business man and always identified with the growth and advancement of the communities in which he lived.

SOLOMONVILLE HS RICH PLACER LANDS

(From Sunday's Daily)

There has been a rush during the past few days to the rich placer lands where anything from shot gold to good sized nuggets of the pure stuff has been found about 12 miles northeast of Solomonville on the west bank of the Gila River and not more than three-fourths of a mile south of the mouth of the Bonita.

Three nuggets which sold for $175 were recently found by a prospector and another find which has been reported to this office aggregating $325 was made by Al Higgins, who picked up nuggets to this amount within a period of three days.

There is no doubt that these new placers will soon reveal startling riches as soon as modern appliances are in place to work the gravels of this district.

Reliable information at this time is hard to secure for the reason that those who have found the rich stuff are keeping closed mouths regarding their discoveries.

SUEZ, April 10.—The steamer Admiral, with the Roosevelt party aboard passed out the canal at 10 o'clock tonight.

EMBALMERS MEET TO SELECT THEIR OFFICERS

(From Sunday's Daily)

H. M. Maus, of the undertaking firm of Maus and Shannon, arrived home from Phoenix yesterday morning, where he attended the first meeting of the Territorial Board of Embalmers, Wednesday. The members of the board are Sam Easterling of Phoenix, appointed for three years, H. M. Maus of Prescott, two years, and O. C. Parker of Tucson, one year.

At the organization, O. C. Parker was elected president and H. M. Maus secretary. The regular annual meetings of the board were fixed for the first Monday in November of each year. The next meeting will be held at the call of the president.

Under the provisions of the new law creating the board, all undertakers in the Territory will, on application, be granted licenses upon the payment of a $5 fee. On and after July 1 all undertakers desirous of doing business in Arizona will be compelled to pass an examination before at least two members of the board before a license will be granted.

A meeting will be called at any time on the receipt of two applications for license, when the applicants will be subjected to the examination.

Undertaker Maus reports business prosperous in Phoenix and a general feeling among the politicians there that Prescott Republicans are getting more than they are entitled to in the way of presidential appointments.

Mr. Maus is confident that the new law creating the embalming board will raise the standard of undertakers in the Territory.

SUNNYSIDE GROUP IN HASSAYAMPA DISTRICT

(From Sunday's Daily)

So well pleased are Fry and Young with the ore showing in the Sunnyside group of mines in the Hassayampa district that they have decided to erect a fifty-ton reduction plant on the property at once. Plans for the new plant and a site are now under consideration by the owners, and they announce that active construction will be commenced as soon as the machinery is purchased and delivered. Miners who have examined the property in the last few days do not hesitate to say that it will be among the great gold producers of northern Arizona before many months.

Considering the amount of development, few, if any, properties in the county can compare with the Sunnyside in ore tonnage opened. One ore shoot with an average thickness of twelve feet sampling $20 to the ton in gold is opened a distance of 200 feet by a drift and crosscuts with the ore still holding its size and values in both headings. The drift is run from the fifty-foot station of one of the shafts being sunk.

A second shaft 80 feet on another of the series of veins covered by the four locations exposes five feet of ore sampling $25 to the ton in gold. Sinking is in progress in both shafts.

An abundance of water for all reduction and domestic purposes exists on the ground in never-failing springs and the claims are partially covered by a heavy growth of pine, insuring mine timber and fuel supply for many years.

The property is located seven and a half miles south of this city on the Senator wagon road. It was formerly known as the Enoch Williams group. The locations were made nearly a quarter of a century ago by Enoch Williams. He did not prosecute development to any considerable depth, contenting himself in extracting the surface ore and recovering the yellow metal by the anartha method.

The property was purchased from the locator by Lester Jackson last year. He recognized it as a gold property of exceptional promise. After commencing its development, he sold the group to Fry and Coleman, who recently made the second payment on the purchase price.

The claims cover a series of veins and ledges near the head of a gulch tributary to the Hassayampa River, long known for its rich placer diggings.

Climax Properties.

Development of the properties of the Climax Mining Company in the Hassayampa district is being pushed by contract. Duncan Brothers are pushing the tunnel on the vein several hundred feet.

W. C. Hanson was awarded a contract to drive tunnel No. 4 400 feet ahead yesterday and a second contract was awarded Fred Yockey to drive tunnel No. 3 ahead 300 feet. Hanson and Yockey will start work on their contracts with small forces Monday.

The Climax group is located on the Hassayampa River, fourteen miles southwest of this city. The claims are among the oldest quartz locations in the Territory north of the Gila River.

The property has an excellent record in gold production and former Governor Wolfley, general manager of the company, is now pushing the development of the veins to greater depths than ever before attempted.

IN PRER COUNTRY

THEY'RE DOING THINGS

(From Sunday's Daily)

In any description of Arizona's mineral resources a newspaper man scarcely knows which part of the Territory is the most richly mineralized, nor which to detail first. Its "Glory Hole" strike of hundreds of thousands there, its Tombstone district, the Bouse, the Warren, Wickenburg, Globe, and infinitum—all possessing wonderful riches—until one who is informed on mining subjects, strikes, etc., or thinks he is, soon becomes aware that Arizona is so wonderful a field for precious and base minerals that it is nearly or quite impossible to keep tab on its every-day discoveries, in addition to the enormous yield of the Territory's working mines.

The Parker country is just now attracting more than ordinary attention. About five miles northeast of Wenden the Glorioso group is making a splendid showing, although there has been no fanfare of trumpets nor pyrotechnics to herald the prospects and actual working mines thereabouts.

The Gold-Copper Mining Company owners of the Glorioso is shortly to install machinery for developing the property and erecting a reduction plant.

In the same district about six miles further from Wenden is the very attractive group of claims of the Arizona Copper & Gold Mining Company. Their main shaft is now 220 feet deep and the vein shows good gold, copper and silver values. The dike is from 40 to 200 feet wide on the surface. P. M. Burson of this company states that he expects a party of eastern capitalists who are interested in it, to visit the property during April. It is expected that their inspection will result in more extensive and comprehensive work.

WARM ABOVE—HOT BELOW

Enjoyable Dance and Hot Fire Both in Same Building

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Prompt action and coolness of Architect J. R. Minor, Night Officer Tom McMahon, and several volunteer firemen prevented a stampede that might have been disastrous to human life at the Odd Fellows hall at 10:30 o'clock last night, when the coal shed on the alley back of the hall was discovered on fire. The blaze was discovered by Minor, who summoned the others without turning in an alarm, fearing that a stampede would follow in the hall, which was crowded with dancers. The hose cart was taken out of the house hurriedly but without any unnecessary noise, water was turned on the blaze, which was extinguished while the youth and beauty of the city were tripping the light fantastic to the music of the Besse orchestra a story above.

While the flames were being extinguished Officer McMahon and other stalwart members of the department tarried at the doors of the hall on the second floor to prevent a stampede in case the fire was discovered.

The dance was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Catholic church. It enjoyed a good patronage, the hall being taxed to its full capacity. The enjoyment continued until the early hours of the morning, when the guests departed for their home with pleasant memories of the first after-Easter dance of the season.

First prize for the waltz was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rust. The second prize was awarded to B. Moser and Mrs. May Lindsay. The judges were Mrs. Robert Birch, J. B. Kohl and Harry Harter.

Every number on the program was encored by the Besse Orchestra during the night.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED IN NEW YORK CITY

(From Sunday's Daily)

J. P. Dillon received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Harlem, New York, announcing the death in that place in a railroad accident of his brother, A. J. Dillon. No particulars of the accident were given. His brother, E. J. Dillon of this city, visited him last year.

REFORM SCHOOL MAY TAKE WILLIE

(From Sunday's Daily)

The preliminary examination of Willie Shipp, the nine-year-old son of Mrs. Alva Shipp, charged with the shooting of Ernest Martinez, the afternoon of April 3, was held before Justice of the Peace McLane yesterday afternoon. The testimony of a number of witnesses was taken by a stenographer and will be submitted to Judge Sloan upon his arrival home from Washington. Justice McLane ordered Mrs. Shipp to report daily with her son at the sheriff's office until the case was submitted to Judge Sloan.

It is generally believed that young Shipp will be sent to the reform school. At his examination yesterday he and his mother claimed that the shot which wounded young Martinez was fired by a boy named Welch, the Welch boy claiming that he was in bed at the time the shot that injured Martinez was fired. The Welch boy's testimony was supported by his sister.

Dr. J. B. McNally testified in dressing young Martinez's wound and gave as his opinion that the wounded boy will recover. The bullet which was fired from a .22 caliber rifle, has not been extracted from Martinez's body.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

Wedding Ceremony Soon Follows and Life Anew Begins.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Return of the marriage of Miss Stella Young and Earl B. Wilson, April 6, at Crown King, was received by Probate Judge C. P. Hicks yesterday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. W. Wagner of Mayer.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Fred Plumb, of Crown King. She arrived a few months ago in the Bradshaw mountain metropolis from her former home in the East. Her charming personality soon attracted the groom, who is deputy sheriff and owns a prosperous barber business. It was a case of love at first sight. The wedding followed.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

James Seaman, foreman of the Wildflower mine, who was seriously injured by being thrown from a horse near his camp yesterday morning, was brought to the Mercy Hospital last night. He is painfully injured on the face and head, two of his ribs are believed to be broken, his shoulder is dislocated and he is otherwise badly bruised.

After his injuries were dressed he was reported resting easy at a late hour last night.

Mr. Seaman is well known all over the Territory. His friends and acquaintances here deeply regret the accident.

THIRTY OUNCE BAR

From a Trial Run of the Etta Mill In the Verde

(From Tuesday's Daily)

A thirty ounce bar of gold, the result of a trial run of the Etta mill, was received from the Bockariz Mining Company by the Prescott National Bank yesterday. The bar was a clean-up of waste run through the mill after the plant was turned over to the company by the firm of Elliott & Drescher.

The thirty-ounce cleanup was a surprise to the management, as it was intended that the rock run through the mill should be waste carrying little if any values. The mill worked satisfactorily and will be started on ores from the mine as soon as some minor repairs and changes are made.

LOSES HIS SISTER.

(From Sunday's Daily)

J. K. Caldwell, of Williamson valley, received the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Ernest A. Friday, from Adel, Oregon, yesterday. Her remains will be shipped to the family home in Tulare, Cal., for interment.
